

Thanks to all of the ISPS members who participated in our Poetry Month project by contributing poems for the library displays. Thanks, too, to those of you who spent the time and effort it took to mount the exhibits in a record number of libraries in the Chicagoland area. We're even looking at the possibility of a new chapter in Bloomington (!) as a result of our involvement there. We hope you will stop in to some of the libraries to read a few of the many poems on display and when possible express your appreciation to the library personnel who kindly provided space for us to show off our skills.
